NOT CONTROLLED BY THE BIG INTERESTS

As an Independent Candidate for Senator I have come before the people with a well-defined policy on the following questions:

Immigration, Taxation, Direct Primary Law, Homesteading, General Utility Commission, Banana Claims and Labor.

These are the questions that are pertinent to the present campaign and a candidate's stand on these questions should determine whether he should be elected or not.

No speaker of either party has assailed a single argument I have brought forward.

No candidate on either the Republican or Democratic ticket has been able to attack a single statement that I have made either on the stump or through the press.

You have read my views on all the above questions and if you think it over you must conclude that THEY ARE ALSO YOUR VIEWS.

Now I ask you, Mr. Republican or Mr. Democratic voter, which of your candidates have come forward with any policy upon any question of vital interest during this campaign?

Don't you think there is some qualification required besides the wearing of a party label to merit an election at your hands to the high office
